

Submitter:

Adam Kupka

On Behalf Of:

Committee:

Senate Committee On Rules

Measure, Appointment or Topic:

SB210

It's quite simple. Every citizen of of qualifying status has the right to vote. There has been no measurable evidence that mail-in ballots lead to wide spread voter fraud, and any attempt to minimize legal voting capability is unconstitutional. This is nothing than an attempt by the current administration to suppress the votes of those who will not bend to their malignant rule, and I oppose the measure.