Oregon's long standing vote by mail has worked well for our state for decades. Changing it only capitulates to the whims of the current president of the U.S. and is not a valid reason to change what has worked well for years. Why subject our population to long lines, having to take time off of work as well as the added expense of having to pay poll workers? I've read that vote by mail is far cheaper than manned polls. Please don't change what works for us.
