

Submitter: Caleb Ward

On Behalf Of:

Committee: Senate Committee On Rules

Measure, Appointment or Topic: SB210

The most basic duty of the government is to represent the people, so it should be as easy as possible for the people to make their voices heard. In that spirit, the people of Oregon made their voices heard in a referendum in 1998 which made mail-in voting the default. If you want to overturn the will of the people, you should ask the people in another referendum.