I could say that this is an egregious attack on the voting rights of Americans, but you already know that because that is the point of this bill.

The person whom you are trying to appease with this nonsense wants vote counting to stop on election day as well because he was under the impression that that's how it worked when he lost the presidency in 2020. He doesn't want to be president, he wants to be king.

If you vote affirmatively on this bill to restrict voting rights, then you are a coward and unworthy of respect. Everyone will know how their representatives voted and you will absolutely hear about it. If this bill passes, you can bet you won't get an attaboy from the Dictator-In-Chief. You will have sold out the people who voted for you in favor of someone who doesn't even know you exist. If that is the case, you really don't deserve to be representing anyone. You should resign, buy a bunch of MAGA merch, and attend Trump rallies so you can pretend he was waving at you in particular.

We don't get Election Day off as a holiday or have polling places established. You need buildings and volunteers and organizers and security to make sure people don't assault the volunteers and organizers. Who is going to pay for all that? Why wouldn't we use that money to actually help people instead of actively harming them? The infrastructure needed to execute this half-baked idea is unattainable. How will rural communities vote? How will the elderly vote? How will disabled people vote? I know you're unbothered by these minute details, but you will be buried in questions like this and ones I haven't even thought of if this bill passes.

Tl;dr This bill sucks and everyone is talking about it. Do the right thing, for crying out loud.
