SB210

Mail-in voting has worked effectively and fairly since its inception. I reject the false narrative concerning voter fraud and mail-in voting. I suppose the lack of evidence coupled with the anti-democratic motives behind the movement has informed my decision. Mail-in voting benefits the more vulnerable among us for whom getting to the polls is a hardship. Cruelty being the norm in current politics, I am not surprised by this measure, but I hope a sense of decency and fairness, despite the denigration of kindness and empathy of late, overcome the current trend towards authoritarianism.
