Over the past 10 years of being my husband's caregiver, we were so thankful that we could vote by mail. Being a retired social studies teacher, my husband felt it was a right and privilege to vote. Being disabled and wheelchair bound, he would have had significant difficulty in going to a voting station. This would have added to his distress. I would have done anything to make it happen, possibly endangering my wellbeing. So, we appreciated the opportunity to make our voices heard. I hope all Oregon citizens have this opportunity into the future.
