

Oregon's mail in voting system has been very successful in increasing the number of people who are able to vote. We have one of the highest voter turnouts in the country. Voting is a democratic institution that works best when people have access to simple, mail in voting systems. Why fix something that isn't broken? It's a low cost system that works. Protect mail in voting and protect democracy.