The Oregon vote by mail system is a wonderful system. It allows people to vote from the comfort of their home where they can actually spend the time to research and understand who and what they are voting for. Most importantly it makes it possible for many people to vote who would have a hardship getting time off work or school to actually go in person. If Election Day is not going to be a national holiday that allows everyone time off to go to the polls then I don't understand why you would get rid of vote by mail. The rate of fraud in our system is extremely low. Why are you attempting to change a system that is not broken?
