I don't understand why the need to get rid of the Mail-in system. We still have the option to vote in person. But even then, not everyone is able to leave work or school just to be able to vote. It's been proven to be increase voter turn out and there's plenty of evidence that it's a secured method of voting. I keep hearing about fraud claims, but I've yet to see proof that it's as big as issue as some people claim.
