Oregon's vote-by-mail is one of the most democratic systems in existence. Much of Oregon is rural with long distances between the voters and the polling places. Vote-by-mail corrected that issue by allowing voters to mail in their ballots.

Also, having the election information sent to homes allows voters a good opportunity to examine the issues and the candidates.

Changing the system and demanding in-person voting will deter many eligible voters from voting. This is unnecessary and appears to be an attempt to decrease the number of voters and votes in elections.

The claims of voter fraud have been disproven many times. The attempts to gerrymander and limit voters' rights have increased.

Support democracy and vote NO on this bill.
