It's 2025, so I ask, why are we out here, trying to make voting more frustrating and cumbersome for people.

The fact of the matter is, Voting by Mail is easier and much more considerate of everyone's time in this day and age. Furthermore, unlike voting in a booth, you're actual able to research the people you're voting about and making sure their views align with yours. Before I moved to Oregon, I lived in FL, and usually voted by mail as well.

Instead, it seems, because it allows voters to make a more informed decision on their choice, there are people, who rather than changing themselves and their positions to that which is electable; would rather scrap vote by mail entirely, so that they can rely on ads and name recognition in order to keep getting elected.

Please keep Vote by Mail, as it is amazing.
