SB210

I strongly oppose any attempts to take away our vote by mail system in the State of Oregon.

I remember in person voting in another state. I would rush home from work, stand in line for my turn and feel intense pressure to vote as quickly as possible so the next person would have a chance. Often my mind would go blank as I stared at the ballot. Why would I go back to that when I can sit at my kitchen table with my cup of coffee and re-read the voter's guide and any other information before carefully casting my vote before each candidate or issue?

I suspect the proponents of this bill do not have Oregon voters needs as their motivation.
