If not for any other reason, election integrity needs to be re-established in this state, as it had been in the past. Every voter knows there are issues that need to be dealt with. Machines are not fully trustworthy, mail in ballots can be stolen, dumped, held or destroyed too easily, not to mention fraud. Why not settle thiis and return to in person voting with ID. It makes sense to deal with this issue once and for all. What is there to be afraid of?
