Yet another power grab by republicans to make voting more awkward. They know that the fewer people vote, the better their chances. We all know this has _nothing_ to do with preventing voter fraud (for which there is no evidence) and everything to do with making it harder for certain groups to vote: poor people working multiple jobs, people with larger families, people who can't afford the time and money to jump through all the hoops to get the paperwork in order vs simply mailing their (legal) ballot. In other words, this is a transparent, vile attempt to disenfranchise left-leaning voters under pretext of Trump's favorite boogymen "preventing voter fraud". We all know his real, obvious, corrupt intentions.
