

The mail in ballot system has been in place in Oregon for nearly my entire life. To get rid of it now because one president thinks that he can swing elections by forcing out voters (due to lack of access, or time off or any other reason) is atrocious.

All people should be allowed to have easy access to voting. It's not a privilege to vote, it's a necessity. Curbing access just further points to the looming oligarchy that is building in our country.

It's embarrassing, to say the least, that we would allow such a bully to devolve our country.
