Oregon is one of the easiest states to register and vote in. I get a text that my ballot is in the mail, I complete and return it. I get a text when it's received and another when it's counted. I never have to wonder if my vote has been counted. It should be this way in all 50 states. In-person voting is a burden on working people, elderly people, parents and disabled people. Why would you want to make voting harder? This is a ridiculous idea that is purely being pushed for purposes of voter suppression. NO!!!! I say NO!!!
