

Submitter:

Deen NicRae

On Behalf Of:

Committee:

Senate Committee On Rules

Measure, Appointment or Topic:

SB210

In person voting is unrealistic with the current realities of life. Many people are unable to make it to a voting booth due to work or family obligations, some jobs are emergent in their requirements that would be dangerous to leave and often have no one to cover, small children, the elderly, and very ill can not be just left alone or come with the voter. Mail in also allows for more time for thoughtful, educated voting that does not need to worry about the amount of time it takes to vote.