I moved from Indiana 6 years ago. I had not experienced mail in voting before. Our citizenship and residence were established before we could vote. I really like mail-in voting. It is convenient but, even better, it is (at least in Oregon) very informative. The Voter's Pamphlet gives statements from ALL candidates, of all parties, as well as local, state and national offices. With the extra time after receiving the pamphlet I have time for further research, if wanted. It is a great and secure system.
