

Submitter:

Michelle Winter

On Behalf Of:

Committee:

Senate Committee On Rules

Measure, Appointment or Topic:

SB210

As a concerned citizen, I strongly support making in-person voting on Election Day the standard method for conducting elections. It ensures a clear, unified process that fosters trust and transparency. Showing up in person to cast a ballot is a time-honored tradition that strengthens community engagement and minimizes confusion or doubts about the integrity of the results. This straightforward approach respects the democratic process and keeps it accessible to all who value their voice.