It is time to return to in person voting and requiring identification at the polls. There is tremendous distrust of the mail in election system in Oregon. Many voters have become disenchanted with the system and heavily distrust the results. Another thing to consider is that with the possibility of federal elections requiring identification it would seem like a good time to get back to in person voting. By getting this system in order now Oregon will be ready for the next federal election should the requirement be in place. Waiting for all of the fighting and lawsuits to end will not give Oregon time to prepare adequately. It seems prudent to get back to basics.

Thank you for your consideration,
