I strongly oppose going back to in person voting. Our mail in voting has been very successful and is a very safe and secure way to vote. We have an almost non existent instance of voter fraud. Vote by mail allows our elderly and disabled community an easier method of voting. It also means people do not have to take valuable time away from work and family to stand in lines to vote. There is really no valid reason to even be considering going back to such an ineffectual method of voting.
