How far must we as a society go in order to justify the false claims of a malignant narcissist who can't accept an electoral loss? There is no widespread voter fraud. Mail-in voting does, however, increase legal voter participation, particularly by groups who would be unlikely to vote for him or his sycophants, which is the real reason it's being targeted.

Oregon must not voluntarily cede ground on this. The Constitution is clear: the right to conduct federal elections lies solely with the states. No executive order will change that.
