SB210

I am a proud Oregonian and I opposed Bill 210. Vote-by-mail allows the voices of every Oregonian, every American, to be heard. Our system is a strong example for other states. It encourages strong voter turnout year after year, and has been serving us faithfully since it was enacted. Requiring in person voting sets the stage for barring more and more voters from being able to cast their vote, especially those in the working class, those with young children, and those with disabilities. We should be looking to empower our voters, not hinder them at every opportunity.
