

Submitter:

James Brown

On Behalf Of:

Committee:

Senate Committee On Rules

Measure, Appointment or Topic:

SB210

Every time I sit down to vote at my kitchen table, I have time to read the positions of each candidate or ballot measure, look up their website, and make an informed decision to the best of my ability. Why on Earth would anyone want to change that?? To severely inconvenience every Oregonian just to crack down on some imagined boogeyman of voter fraud so systemic that it can sway entire elections? Have the legislators submitting this proposal ever voted here, even once? This is a preposterous suggestion and it should be regarded with the derision it deserves. For the people who are in favor of this, those big words mean "this idea is dumb and bad."