I am an 81 year old person who can still get around, so voting in person wouldn't be a problem for me, at this time, but what would happen to that ability if I no longer had that mobility? Voting by mail is a safe and easy way to have my say in elections and should not be interfered with, especially as it was voted in by 69.4% of the voters in 1998. With so many serious things happening at this time in our history, why should we be fighting and old battle that most of the public isn't aware of, or is that the point? Protect our safe and effective voting by mail. Thank you.
