The need for voter identification is already filled by voter registration. I was previously a military spouse who had to fight to keep my ballot by a different state because my mail in ballot wasn't being mailed in state, as we resided in a different state.

Restricting mail in ballots, even with exceptions for military, makes it harder to maintain your ability to vote, and threatens the rights of all voters. Standardizing mail in ballots gives everyone the chance for the voice they're due. This is a disgusting attack on each one of us and the people who back it should be ashamed for working against their constituents.
