SB210

I have lived in Oregon my entire life. Oregon's current voting system is effective, efficient, secure, and reliable. I work with colleagues from across the country, many of whom have to take a half or full day off work to wait in long lines to vote in-person on election day. With mail-in voting, I have been able to spend significant time reviewing the voter guide, researching candidates and ballot issues, and providing a well-informed vote without having to navigate taking time off of work. Empirical evidence shows that nothing is wrong with Oregon's current voting system. Don't fix what isn't broken, and disenfranchise voters who may struggle to access physical polls or take time off work.

Sincerely,

Aaron Poplack
