Having mail-in voting has meant that I've been able to vote in almost every election. It means I've been able to research at my leisure, and I am prepared and knowledgeable for everything I vote on. Having a life that has me traveling a lot, I am also so thankful that it allows me to vote no matter what my life looks like at the time. I would feel somewhat disenfranchised to lose this voting mechanism, as undoubtedly I would be able to vote less. Having a newborn, it's hard to even contemplate how I would be able to attend in person voting at this time, and I feel in-person voting is particularly difficult for mothers.

Please keep this successful and long running practice in Oregon.
Thank you for your consideration.
