As a disabled woman I am very against the idea of eliminating Mail-In Voting. Mail-in voting helps Oregonians who otherwise might not be able to vote. People like single parents, disabled people, the elderly, people who work multiple jobs, people without transportation or access to public transportation, etc.

Limiting how people can vote and the time that is available to vote will lead to less people voting.

We should always do the most to eliminate obstacles, not create them. Wanting less people to vote is never done with the well being of the community in mind.
