

Submitter:

Michael Bosso

On Behalf Of:

Committee:

Senate Committee On Rules

Measure, Appointment or Topic:

SB210

I've lived in Oregon my entire life. I'm old enough to remember both in person and mail in voting. Mail in is no more likely to experience fraud than in person voting and is far more convenient for every Oregonian. In fact, in person voting is far more likely to experience another form of fraud like intimidation and reduced access to polling locations.