SB210

Why would you ruin a good thing? Vote by Mail has allowed me to vote in every election without fuss for the past 23 years, even when I was living overseas in places as varied as Switzerland to South Sudan. Even now, as a nurse working in Portland, I wouldn't want the hassle of having to go to an in-person polling place. No one is giving me the time off for Election Day to go wait in line. Besides, I would much prefer to read about issues and candidates in detail from the comfort of my home, and be an informed voter. If you're pushing this legislation, you are trying to undermine democracy and destroy one of the best voter participation systems in the country.
