As an Oregon voter who travels frequently for business, by-mail voting ensures that I can do both my job and my duty as a citizen. As a parent and a caregiver for my mother, mail-in voting means that a last-minute emergency won't keep me from the polls. I want all my neighbors to be able to vote, not just those lucky enough to have free time on election day. I enjoy walking to the ballot box on the weekend before Election Day to deposit my vote and seeing my neighbors doing the same. Please keep mail-in voting the law of the land in Oregon -- it's better for everyone except those who want to discourage people from voting!
