Hands off Oregon's mail in voting system. Not everyone who is registered and wants to vote can easily get to a polling place, stand in line, if necessary, and stand to read through the ballot information to vote. Potential voters possibly have jobs and/or children and/or handicaps and/or lack of transportation that make getting to a polling place to vote, a difficult thing to do. In a free and fair democracy, exercising our right to vote should not be difficult.
