I am writing to express my strong opposition to the proposed legislation that seeks to eliminate mail-in voting in Oregon. As a resident and voter in this state, I have experienced firsthand the numerous benefits that our vote-by-mail system offers, and I believe that dismantling this system would be a significant step backward for our democracy.

Oregon has been a pioneer in implementing mail-in voting, and should be the model for the whole USA. This system has not only increased voter participation but has also proven to be cost-effective and secure.
