I oppose the bill to eliminate mail in voting. By receiving my ballot at home, I can ensure it gets done and submitted when it's convenient for me, versus taking UNPAID time out of work to stand in line among other people to vote. That antiquated process is inefficient, stress-inducing and exasperating. Also, it's no more secure than voting by mail/using a Dropbox (when they're appropriately protected from arson). In fact, by eliminating the middleman there's less chance for human error/ballots getting lost when voting by mail vs going to a polling place run by volunteers who had a minimal amount of training and their own political agendas.
