

Submitter:

Stephen Henley

On Behalf Of:

Committee:

Senate Committee On Rules

Measure, Appointment or Topic:

SB210

The fact that this is even on the agenda is disgraceful.

Millions of Americans rely on early voting, mail-in ballots, and other accessible voting methods due to their work schedules, disabilities, transportation challenges, or general responsibilities. By limiting these options, this bill disproportionately impacts seniors, rural voters, individuals with disabilities, and those who cannot afford to take time off work to vote in person on a single designated day. modern elections require flexibility to accommodate a diverse electorate.

Many states have successfully implemented alternative voting methods without issues of fraud or security concerns. Instead of making it harder for citizens to participate in democracy, we should be expanding access to voting while maintaining election security.

I vehemently oppose this bill.

As should every good American.

Shame on those that even suggested it.