Voting by mail is a benefit to being a informed voter. I am able to take my time researching and reading the voters pamphlets. If I had to vote in person I would struggle to be an informed voter with the ballot measures and different offices. Having the highest turnout in the country is one of the few things Oregon is actually good out compared to our poor schools and lack of housing. Repealing vote by mail should not happen and I would question anyone's motive as to why it should happen.
