This would significantly limit eligible voters' ability to participate in our democratic process. Consider those who are sick or infirm, those with mobility issues, and those of limited resources. Showing up in person does is not, and should not be, a requirement for being an eligible voter in this country. In fact, in today's political climate, the idea of showing up in person to cast a ballot seems more dangerous than ever before. I OPPOSE this measure.

Oregon voters should be able to vote by mail if they so wish. Oregonians took some of the first steps to make this system possible - to reverse it now is dubious.
