SB210

Every time there is an election, I am proud to live in Oregon. Instead of having to take time off work to stand in unnecessary queues, Oregonians swing by their ballot boxes on foot, by bike or transit, or in their vehicles to do their civic duty and vote. As far as I can tell, there have been no credible allegations of voter fraud in Oregon, least of all based on our way of voting.

I urge the Committee not to pass this bill, which would make voting less accessible to Oregonians.
