SB210

I am writing this in opposition of SB 210. Making in-person voting on the date of the election the standard method of an election creates discriminatory barriers for many voters, and is a form of voter suppression. Many Americans cannot take time off of work to vote due to financial duress, or care commitments. Many places of work would require employees to take time off to vote, a luxury that many working class Americans do not have. This limits the freedoms of all Americans and their right to vote, and is not the America that strives to be the land of the free.
