SB210

In 2025, we need to be modernizing our processes to keep up with changing times, not going back in time and making them more burdensome. Forcing people to vote in person will exclude so many different kinds of people in different situations with barriers to taking time away from work or family obligations. It inherently limits representation of we, the people. I'll be generous and assume that's not what the GOP intends to do with this bill. So whatever else they are trying to accomplish, if it's voter fraud they are truly worried about and trying to prevent, I urge them to find other means of doing so.
