I oppose taking away mail in voting because people who can't make it in on voting day, like people who are disabled, deserve the right to vote. Taking away their accessibility violates their right to vote, as a US citizen. Not all disabilities are visible, not all people are able to stand in line, or under flourescent lighting, etc. They still deserve to have their right to vote upheld and mail in voting, is how I have been able to vote for almost 20 years.

Thank you.
