When I was 12, on my way home from church, I was in a car accident and thrown from the vehicle. Among other injuries, I received a TBI and chronic migraines, which have become chronic daily migraines in the last 36 years. When having a migraine, I struggle with vomiting and cannot drive. Bright lights, the noise of crowds can also trigger one on a bad day.

My first few votes were at a polling station. But over the years as my chronic illness has taken more and more from me, one thing I've always had was the ability to vote in a quiet, safe environment that does not require travel. I have been able to vote in every election since I was 18. I cannot guarantee on voting day that I will be in any condition to go to a polling location, and each and every election cycle I am thankful for remote voting. Please don't take that away from me and people like me.
