

I strongly oppose amending Oregon law to require in-person only voting. Mail in voting allows all Oregonians to have equal access to participation in our elections. Requiring in-person voting would greatly reduce access to voting for residents with mobility, employment, childcare and transportation barriers. Simply put, this is voter suppression. Mail in voting has been widely successful for decades in Oregon and there is no reason to end it.