SB210

Voting remotely is how the people of Oregon can best be represented. To restrict voting access in this way is un-democratic, cost ineffective, and un-American.

Coming to the table first with making each voting day a state+federal holiday for all workers would be a start for something like this. Think of all of the people who work on the day of the vote, the people who cannot travel, the people who would be financially burdened by making the trip or taking the time off.

I oppose this bill, and hope to continue to participate through the ease of remote channels.
