SB210

I lived in New York City for 30 years prior to moving to Portland and voted in every election since I was old enough. By comparison, the ease and convenience of Portland's voting system is something I have touted as one of Oregon's best features. I have more time to research candidates and make informed choices. I have not had to worry about being late to work or canceling other obligations due to a long line or inconvenient polling station. We have a perfect voting system that allows for people to choose the candidates and measures they desire without discouraging working people, or people with children, or disabilities from exercising their part in the democratic process.
