

Submitter:

Ian C

On Behalf Of:

Committee:

Senate Committee On Rules

Measure, Appointment or Topic:

SB210

Huge no. The only reason anyone would want to get rid of mail in voting is to rig elections. I'm now more interested in investigating the Republican who proposed such a bill. No one should be so ready to lick the boots of a tyrant so fast. I'm honestly at the point of disavowing the entire republican party. They talk and I hear nothing, they go on tv I see nothing, in conversation they get ignored. Stop playing this bs bipartisan card. Your either against a tyrant or your part of the problem. I'm starting to think it's all just 1 big party that just plays like it's 2 sides. I doubt anyone reading this will prove me wrong.