It's always amazing to me how the fascist party of america, also known as the Republican Party seems to think the answer to all their election woes in Oregon is to make it harder for American citizens to vote. Almost like they know their party platform is so toxic to working Oregonians that they stand no chance of winning in Oregon if people are able to easily vote. Shame on the republicans for trying to limit access to voting. But sadly the Republican Party seems to have forgotten what shame is, instead they only exist to further the interests of the oligarchs of whom they've been suckling at the Teet of for decades now. Instead of being cucks for Trump, they should try actually caring about the people they're meant to represent.
