SB210

I moved here from Missouri 15 years ago and when I lived in Missouri I rarely voted because I couldn't get off work to go stand in the long lines to vote in person, and when I was able to get the time off, I rarely knew what I was voting for. Mail-in voting not only makes it easy to make your voice heard, but the informational pamphlet that comes with the ballot ensures that I can make an informed choice in my voting. Unless this hearing is also about making Voting Day a federal holiday that allows people to not have to choose between voting and work, then I think it's a no-brainer to keep mail-in voting as an option. The only thing removing it will do is decrease voter turnout.
