We know that mail in voting increases voter turnout. We are disenfranchising our citizens when we make it more difficult for them to access a ballot. Our lives are busier than ever as we try to make ends meet in the 21st century, and being able to vote at home at our leisure is good for voter participation. On top of that, fraudulent voting by mail has been shown to be such a little problem when we look back at recent elections, it's practically a non issue. This bill would only succeed in silencing voices.
